HELPFUL RESOURCES - Updated 3.23.20

We realize that many of you may be working from home for the first time, so we've compiled a quick list of links that you may find helpful. See page two for resources by profession.

-IACP Team

Loom http://loom.com/

Loom is a great way to send something that is too long for an email but just right for a short video

Slack https://slack.com/

A tool to keep in touch with your team

IACP has IACP Practitioner Slack Channel info@collaborativepractice.com

Free Conference Call/Video https://www.freeconferencecall.com/

Zoom https://zoom.us/

Both options are suitable for video meetings, conference calls, and video sharing

Lettucemeet https://lettucemeet.com/

Doodlepoll https://doodle.com/make-a-poll

Polling options

Schedulicity https://www.schedulicity.com/

Acuity https://www.acuityscheduling.com/

Allows users to book appointments with you online

Docusign https://go.docusign.com/
Adobe Sign https://acrobat.adobe.com/us/en/sign/electronic-signatures.html

Useful to have documents signed.

Additional Resources

how-to-run-a-great-virtual-meeting

/successful-virtual-meetings-skills-improvement

How to use google forms

Zoom Etiquette tips from

BY PROFESSION

Legal

https://www.americanbar.org/

Mental Health

https://www.apa.org/practice/programs/dmhi/research-information/pandemics

For U.S. Federal government has just relaxed the HIPAA regulations regarding the use of video platforms for mental health care click HERE.

National Association of Social Workers

https://www.socialworkers.org/

Financial

https://www.finra.org/rules-guidance/key-topics/covid-19

Professionals outside of the United States should connect to their respective governing organizations for guidance and tips.

www.collaborativepractice.com

CONNECTING WITH IACP

IACP Facebook Page

www.collaborativepractice.com